

THE MANUFACTURING, AND MINING INTERESTS.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Banquet at Bethlehem—Endowment of a College and School of Mines—Taxation, Protection, and Education.

The Permanent Committee on Internal Revenue of which the Hon. John Sherman is Chairman, has recently made a tour of observation through the mining regions of Pennsylvania with a view to collecting such information as will enable them to legislate intelligently on the great interest of mines and iron manufactures at the coming Session of Congress. The Committee finished its labors yesterday, having traversed the coal fields between Pittsburgh, Scranton, and Mauch Chunk, and after full and free conference with those interested in those subjects returned to Washington.

Their arrival in the Lehigh Valley was made the occasion of a large gathering of capitalists interested in iron, iron mills and railroads, which took the form of a complimentary dinner tendered to the Hon. A. C. Packer, one of the wealthiest and most influential gentlemen in Pennsylvania. Mr. Packer has recently, with very praiseworthy liberality, contributed of his means no less than $500,000 to establish a College of Literature and Physical Science to be located at Bethlehem, and his friends testified their appreciation of his example by a banquet at the Sun Inn probably the most superb ever given in that State. W. H. Gatzmer, F. G. Bell, L. W. Anderson, John N. Campbell, J. E. Van Rensselaer, Thomas and John Snyder, Jr., were the committee of arrangements, and Mr. Gruber the enter for the affair.

The affair passed off very harmoniously, and from the immense moneyed interests it presented it cannot fail to have a beneficial influence upon the future of the country.

Among the guests were the Hon. Morton McMichael of Philadelphia, Chas. C. Carey of Pennsylvania, Gov. Fairbanks of Wisconsin, Simon Cameron, D. Boushier and John Welsh of Boston, J. W. Parsons of the Camden and Amboy Railroad, Mr. Bedford of the Erie Road; D. M. Fox, M. Devin, Eliza Parker, James B. Vandusen, S. S. Bentley and others of New York. Mayor McMichael, in returning the thanks of the honored guest, alluded to the vanity of acquiring wealth merely for its own sake. The next was to which a man could put his own money, after paying his debts, was to provide for the education, the manners and the comfort of those around him. This Judge Packer had done in more instances than one they met to see.

Mr. Davis of New York in response to a toast of that State, pointed out that Philadelphians were quietly and steadily turning their attention to manufacture and mines, while New York was most engrossed in imports and trade. He had to confess that our course tended to help other countries at our own expense, and urged upon all the duty of making everything we needed for our own use.

Mr. H. C. Tracy, in reply to some remarks of Gov.

He said that the only importation we needed from Europe was labor. If our legislators would give us a permanent tariff that would justify the erection of the machinery, we could excel Europe in the quality and cheapness of our goods. Between 1856 and 1860 there were hundreds of blast furnaces stopped because of the ruinous competition of foreign iron. Here we had at either end of the Lehigh Valley miles of cast iron pipe, and all that was left of the iron manufacture and labor. The way to build up national prosperity surely was to educate the people who would then see to their law makers. This Judge Packer had commenced in a practical way. His example should be followed.

Speeches were then made by Messrs. Pierard, Gatzmer, Judge Strong, W. W. Ketchum, Dougherty and McLain, when the meeting terminated in good feeling.

It is astonishing that one of the rich and most populous portions of the state is so ignorant and apathetic to the rising public. The aggregate product of coal from three counties pouring their great mineral wealth through the Lehigh Valley was nearly 10,000,000 of tons. Beside this enormous sum there is an incalculable field of iron ore, which but for the uncertainties and caprice of our legislation might be furnishing our own laborers instead of those of England. Already many new iron works are being erected in the Lehigh Valley. The largest zinc works in the country are now in operation, and from the inexhaustible deposites of coal and the world, there can be no far distant when the iron manufacture of the Lehigh Valley alone will equal the present great product. One rolling mill at Bethlehem is now producing rails superior in quality to the English, at the same price, with as much work as they have capacity for. Measures will be introduced into Congress this winter for putting the iron interest on a permanent basis.

THE ORTEGO MURDER.

Examination of the Prisoner Pellicer—He is Fully Identified—Evidence of an Acquaintance of the Parties—What Occurred on the Evening of the Tragedy—Inquest to be Held To-Day.

Last evening the District Attorney (Mr. S. D. Morris) and Police Surgeon Cochran visited the man Pellicer, who is now confined in the Forty-fourth Precinct Station-House on the charge of being implicated in the murder of Mr. Ortego. They examined his person and found his right hand cut across the fingers, as indicated by the glove found in the Park. The cuts are clean and show that they were made with a sharp instrument. His clothes were also examined, and they were found to be bloody. A young Spanish gentleman named Jose Velez called to see the prisoner yesterday. He represented himself as a cook in a French boarding-house, and that he boarded at the Hotel de Cuba at different times. On Wednesday last, about 7 o'clock in the morning, Gonzales came there and inquired for Mr. Pellicer, who had desired lodgings, and was then invited to the hotel. In order to make him look sick, he brought him a glass of la goma, and he (Mr. Velez) identified the gloves which were across the fingers as the ones he bought. Mr. Velez saw Gonzales at the hotel de Cuba at different times. On Wednesday last, about 7 o'clock in the morning, Gonzales came to the door and admitted him.
